Ban Effect

The Fourteen leaders of the evil originations gather

("Here I am again standing here in this room with the leaders of underworld, in the public's eye they are the saviors of both people and pokemon alike, but when honesty come in they are nothing, but leaders of a selfish self center groups?")

"All right alright all right Listen up all of you time for roll call. Team Rocket's Giovanni Leader of the Kanto regain, are you here!?"

(Everything is going great")

He raises his hand after he put his glass of wine down "Yes I am"

The announcer nods his head "Good thank for coming" He clears his throat "Team Rocket's Anya Leader of the Johto regain, are you here"

("I with my mom and dad and they finally love meâ€¦?") He looks up at his mother and father they look down at him giving him a "smile?" He scratches the back of his head

"Yes I am" she said in a cold voice sending chills down the announcer's spine

["My name is Rayanni I'm the son of Giovanni and Anya the leads of Team Rocket. I'm twenty-one years old, I'm standing 6ft 10in, I'm born in the summer and that's as much as I know about when my birthday is. I try asking about it in the past, but they kept telling me that it's not importantâ€¦") Rayanni lets out a sigh of defeat ("I'm wearing my team Rocket uniform it's a vest with no front, long in the back all the way down to my ankles and on the back there is a full moon dicine over a field of flowers, and also I'm wearing a pink baggy shirt that prity worn down and last a pair of dark blue short")

He clears his throat again "Thank you for coming. Team Aqua's Archie leaders of the southern and western seas of the Hoenn regain, are you here?"

"Right here!" Archie bellowed

The announcer nods his head "Thank you for coming. Team Aqua's Yan leaders of the northern and eastern seas of the Hoenn regain, are you here

"I'm accounted for" she said with a dull flat voice

("That's their daughter Valentine she's wearing her style of the team aqua's uniform its pretty much team magmas uniform, but in stead of red and black it's blue and white an A in stead of an M") Valentine's eyes meet Rayanni's ("She's normally a bubbly ball of energy that will give you a headache after spending thirty minutes with her, she's has a mood swing when thing get "important" turning her into someone so dull and lifeless spending thirty minutes with her it will make you want to kill your self from all the boredom you will suffer from her") she smiles and waves at him and he returns it

"Thank you for coming. Team Magma's Maxie leader of the western and eastern lands of the Hoenn regain, are you here?"

He pushes his glasses back into place "Of course I am" he said in a lifeless tone

"Thank you for coming. Team Magma's Yin leader of the northern and southern lands of the Hoenn regain, are you here?

She giggled "Of course I am!" she said copying so bubbly

("That's their son June he's a life less robot that will kill you with all the knowledge he has or better yet he thinks he has, the only time when he's any fun is when you excite him in one way or another me personally I like making him mad I hate seeing him smile and what's with him and aqua's daughter they wear their rivals uniform but there teams color pattern and logo")June meets Rayanni eye contact and runs his finger across his throat, Rayanni raises an eye brow in question, with two fingers he gestures "bring it on"

"Thank you for coming. Team Galactic's Cyrus Leader of the external force of the Sinnoh regain, are you here?"

"I'm here" he said getting strait to the point

"Thank you for coming. Team Galactic's Rexzanna Leader of the internal force of the Sinnoh regain, are you here?"

"That I am here" she said in a majestic tone

("Those two are their twins Baa and Naa those two are insect and orderly with each other when one raises their hand the other will also, if you try to talk to one of them you will end up talking to both of them to the point where they say the next word in the sentence and like their mother they wear frilly dresses pretty much like there queens")

"Tank oo or comesinf" He shakes his head Thank you for coming!" He takes a few deep breaths "Team Plasma's Ghetsis leader of the southern regain in Unova, are you here?"

He clears his throat doing his best to sound like a king "Yes I'm here"

"Thank you for coming. Team Plasma's Reena leader of the western regain of Unova, are you here?"

She pushes her blood red hair out of her face "That I am" sounding like a bitter queen

("That's their daughter her name is Mimi playing she's wearing a fancy dress that you only have seen in fairy tails; she is a complete neat freak heaven forbids that a strand of hair or a sliver is torn on that dress of her's and not even the deepest pit of hell could protect you if you're the cause for those sins") She meets his eyes as he looks at her up and down she gives him a wink that he doesn't even notice

"Thank you for coming, Team Plasma's Colpess leader of eastern regain of Unova, are you here

He pushes his glasses back into place "Yes I'm here"

"Thank you for coming. Team Plasma's Ruu leader of the northern regain of Unova, are you hereâ€¦Ruu â€¦RUu â€¦RUU â€¦RUU!"

She jolts up in her chair letting out a loud yawn "Yap yap yap ya I'm here" she leans back in her chair

("That's their son E his really name is Eugene but everyone calls him Big E and his name is true he is big not only in size but mass, he's a big meaty man for sure, you see he sleep walk or better yet works out in his sleep and to boot he's an absolute lazy speed bump he's asleep for twenty hours a day and that's what he calls a bad day. An the one his mother his holding is his baby sister Sonya"

"Thank you for coming. Team Flare's Lysandre leader of the execution force of the Kalos regain, are you here?"

"I am" He said with a stern tone

"Thank you for coming. Team Flare's Niomie leader of the planners force of the Kalos regain, are you here?"

"I am" she said with killing intention

(Those two are their sons Rayoon and Ryon they are the complete opposite of each

Making the announcer jump in his skin "Thank you for coming. All right master and mistresses all excepted a few of the leaders are accounted for"

"Thank you so much and now it's time to get down to business"

("Those two their names are Rance and Eveen and the one on the far right is their son name Evan and the one closer to me is Winter-rin and they are the leaders of the Equilibrium group their group job is to keeps these ego idiots from killing each other, oops I'm mean these "honorable leader from getting in a disagreement" and to make things stupid who ever rules the world first will take their place as the Equilibrium, don't get me started on that middle finger up their ass" Rayanni lets out a loud yawn ("Oh great here we go onto the "reason why we're here speech" or another name for it "trying to convince are selves what we're doing is the right thing" Well I don't want any of this I'll just take a nap"

In Rayanni dream world

In a millions of color meadow on a beautiful sunny day

"This is such a work of art; a place as beautiful as this could never be real."

"An attitude like yours of course it could never be real" He follows the motherly voice to two figures one sitting with her legs tucked under her, her eyes are closed looking at him with a misleading smile on her face, the other one leans against a tree with her arms cross looking at him with her dead blue eyes there us a line across her face where her mouth should be

"There is reality, there is fantasy, one has to be dealt with, the other could never become true" he lets out a sigh of disappointment "One is real the other is something only cowards run away to" he walks into the meadow as it fades away into the black

"You know as well as I do that's true and not true at the same time" he looks behind him only seeing black turns around again and sees an ocean of white balancing out his black he looks at the pair it seems the mute is getting angry with him and the other one with the misleading smile seems to be getting testy with him as well one of her eyes are half open. It opens it mouth once more "You have more important things to do in life instead of the waist of time and air you been living till now"

"My life is great just the way it is now, I have my mother, I have my father, I have" he is silence with one quick crack in the lower jaw

Getting knocked into a grey in between the black and white, he lifts his head looking a the mute figure staring at him really angry now, it opens it mouth as if breaking thru a shell, in haunting voice she speaks "Your life is not your own you have a greater meaning in this life, and what your doing right now is neglecting it for two people you know they don't love you, you know your nothing more then a gamble to keep their dying legacy alive instead of making your own "

"What do" before he could speck again he gets another punch in the moth but this time by the one with a misleading smile but this time her eyes are wide open, revealing a pair of blood red eyes with white X thru them

She grabs him by the collar and forces him to make eye contact with her she specks in her loving motherly voice "You have more important things to do and give in this world; you just need to get the willingness to do it again" he stares into her eye

Outside of Rayanni's dream world

During Rayanni's nap the children of the leader's are giving a presentation on how they will make their family's business better then the others

"Thank you very much Valentine, now last but not least Rayanni son of Giovanni and Anya the leaders of team rocket" the announcer is standing there "Rayanni!?" everyone looks at him

There he is still asleep snoring "Aww he is so cute when he sleeps it sounds like he's purring" Valentine gushes with a blush on her face not just her, but every woman in the room couldn't help, but blush for how cute his snore is

The announcer is about to yell at him over the microphone when he kicks back slamming his back again the look-over his parents are seated, digging his fingers into the look-over gasping begging for air completely white and blue in his face, trembling up a storm all over, getting everyone attention "Um" he jumps after the announcer spoke, in a calmer tone "Rayanni are you okay?"

Rayanni slides down the wall covering his eyes with his hands taking a few deep breaths his trembling slows down running his fingers he thru his hair pulling his head back looking up he sees his parents looking down at him, his mother spoke "It's your turn Rayanni"

"What?" He looks at his mother

She points at the stag "It's your turn to give your presentation"

He looks at his mother again then looks at the stage then it clicks "Oh right" he rounds up all his scattered paper work, grabs his bag and heads up to the stage with every step felt heavier then the last he's getting twitchier and twitchier the closer he get to the stage, but as soon as his feet are planted on the stage he straitens up, clearing his throat "I'm sorry about the wait"

He gives everyone a bow "Now the project I've been working on is a three piece project"

"Excuses me, but the deal is that only one project must be done" June spoke up

"Yes I know it is only one project it's just has three piece, three steps" Rayanni goes quiet "Now any other questionâ€¦No alright, now as I was saying" He pulls out a little device resembles a remote that's big enough for only your thumb from his bag "This is the first step the release clicker" he puts it on a push cart then pulls out what looks like a ball of webbing "This is the second step the genetic net" he places the ball down on the push cart then pulls out what resembles a pokeball "This is the third step the A/B Ball" he puts it on the push cart followed by five more of them. He clears his throat again "My project is the inescapable capture project; with these three steps no pokemon will be able to avoid being owned by team Rocket" saying this made him sick in the stomach starting his coughing affair

With a snap of the fingers and an order "Bring them out!" A group of team rocket grunts came out one is pushing a cart with a row of all the pokeballs starting with the original ending with the master ball. Rayanni picks up the release clicker "As you all can see I have every pokeball that is man made and all the pokeballs that are made by our and all yours origination" hearing this causes all but Giovanni and Anya to get angry, those two have prideful smile on their faces. As he explain the release clicker the grunts were taking the pokeballs and placing them on little podiums made just for the pokeballs "As the name of this device implies it will release the pokemon that are in these pokeballs" he aims the devices at the original pokeball and pushes the button with a click and a blue light shoots out hitting the pokeball and releasing the pokemon "Now if you please"

The grunt picks up the pokeball aiming at the pokemon "Ninetails return" nothing happens, the Ninetails looks around completely confuse, the grunt throws the pokeball and catches the Ninetails again after wards the grunt put the pokeball back on the podium. This gets everyone undivided attention

One by one he does the same thing to each pokeball and each time a grunt tries to block the blue beam from standing in front of the pokeball to placing a mirror in the path all the way to incasing the pokeball in fifty foot thick steel casing, but in the end the pokemon standing in front of the pokeball it came from and each time the pokemon is to confuse to resist being capture again "As it was just shown the release clicker can not be stop" as he goes on explaining it his shivering returns, he looks over his should to see two pair of eyes, one pair of blood red eyes with a white X in both of them, and a pair of dead blue eyes

Rance clears his throat "Are you going to continue?"

Hearing this surprises him "Yes" this time it's his turn to clear his throat "I'm mean yes" with one last look over his shoulder now there are two faces ripping threw the reality that's behind him Rayanni picks up the second step and throws it in the air the ball of webbing burst open then dissolves as quickly as it was there and gone all the pokemon are curled up in the fetal position unable to move "You see everybody the genetic net catches the pokemon thru their physical make up, in other word it take and turns the pokemon's body against them selfâ€¦" Rayanni is interrupted by a cry from a pokemon "Both internal and external" everyone in the audience talked among each other as they do the cries of the pokemon got louder and louder, all they had to do is turn down the volume so all they can hear is each other. No one notice how much this musical is killing the monkey in the middle hearing how amazing his invention is so far all these complements and in the back ground growing louder are the cries of pain until they go silent, there are now two figures standing behind

Rayanni looks around watching all the curled up pokemon lose conches trying his hardest to ignore the two figures that freezing his blood beneath his skin "Are they dead?"

Snapping him out of the warzone that's going on in between his ear, he faces where the voice cam from "What?"

"Are all the pokemon dead?" Big E said sounding like he's losing his patients

"No, no" Rayanni lets out a nerves chuckle "No they are not dead, I mean how useful can a pokemon be if there dead, right?" Everyone nods in agreement ignoring the man that's falling apart right in front of them, he looks over his shoulder seeing the two figures creeping closer, making him tremble even more gasping begging for air

He has to use his hand to brace himself up on the cart from falling after a few second he grabs the third step with his uncontrollable shacking hand, staggering to the center of the stag he places the ball in the center and goes back to the cart in a blink of the eye one by one the pokemon get sucked into the third step " Yyyyyooooo" he takes a deep breath and exhaled it "you see everyone the genetic net is will go striated into the A/B Ball with in the radius of 7.000 feet and all you need is one ball to catch the pokemon. Rayanni doesn't half to look behind he can feel the two figures pressing them self against him and their breath said the fear of death down his spine "You see every oneâ€¦ the name of this pokeball is A/B Ball it means from Point A To Point B this pokeball will allow you to use any and all the pokemon in your arsenal" he leans over the push cart gasping for air like he's about to kill over, he clears his throat "With that said I have to let you all know that this project isn't completed, yes there is one and finale piece to the collection and little device I call the Poke-tractor, you see the Poke-tractor will keep tract of all the pokemon in your arsenal and their where about" With a quivering bow "Thank you"

He turns around and there stood the two figures in front of him he walk to them, as he heads that way they floated away "Thank you Rayanni that idea of your has a lot of promises to it I can tell you that" the announcer goes on about stuff that's really not important

As he does, Rayanni walks off the stage the two figures floating just out of reach ("wait"), he walks faster ("Wait"), he's jogging ("WAit") he's now running still reaching for the two floating ("WAIt") He's now in a full on sprit still reaching ("Don't, Don't leave me") the two figures floating out of reach looking at him with pain and sorrow ("WAIT") he falls off the stage, he gets on his knees crying to the darkening heavens "WAIT!"

Everything goes silence to the point all you can here Rayanni gasping with tear running down his face, as quick as the tears began they stopped when he hears "Is there something wrong Master Rayanni" the announcer asked

He looks at the announcer then looks at the two figure who are now looking at him as well "Yes" His voice cracks, with a clearing of his throat and a wiping of his tear He continues "Yes it seems I forgot to tell you all something very important about my release clicker" he gets off the floor still a bit shaky but feeling better about what's he's about to do
